Estrella Mountain Community College, 3000 N. Dysart Road in Avondale, is hosting several BlackHistoryMonth activities.

The college is celebrating African-American culture and showcases contributions made to American culture by African-Americans.

'Moving the Dream Forward' at EMCC in Avondale

Hundreds participated in Saturday's "Moving the Dream Forward" community celebration, which included multicultural performances.

An exhibit of artist and educator Jenita Landrum's work runs through March 1. Her one-woman visual art show, "Perceptions of Identity: Race, Class and Gender," is on exhibit in Estrella and Komatke halls.

Other activities:

- 10 a.m.-noon Wednesday in Plaza Gallery. Clips from Spike Lee's "School Daze" and "Black Greek Organizations: The Foundation," followed by a discussion of the role of African-American sororities and fraternities in African-American culture.
- Science, Technology, Engineering and Math Career Panel from noon to 2:30 p.m. Thursday, Plaza Gallery.

A panel of African-American scientists, engineers, technologists and health-care providers will share information.
