Estrella Mountain Community College Hosts Cybersecurity Round Table

The bi-annual panel will focus on cyber intelligence, human behavior, and personal incident response

AVONDALE, ARIZONA, October 31 – Estrella Mountain Community College (EMCC) is excited to announce the return of our Cybersecurity Round Table. Hosted in partnership with Cybint and Mosaic451, the Fall 2018 Cybersecurity Round Table centers on the human element. This public event is open to all at no cost and presents a unique opportunity to learn about cyber intelligence, human behavior, and personal incident response. Food and beverages will be provided during the pre-event meet and greet. Cybersecurity industry leaders are scheduled to speak including Roy Zur, founder and CEO of Cybint, Andy Jordan (CISSP, CISM, MCSA, MCP, Security+, Network+, ITIL v3, LeanIT), Senior Security Architect at Mosaic451, and Bryan Dickens, retired FBI behavioral profiler now working with Cybint. This engaging round table event features first-hand accounts of daily life as told by industry leaders and includes extensive Q&A to ensure attendee participation.

Speaker Bios:

ROY ZUR is a cyber intelligence expert, the founder and CEO of several cyber companies, including Cybint, a cyber education company. Roy has over a decade of experience in cyber and intelligence operations from the Israeli Security Forces (retired Major) and has developed cyber education programs and technical solutions for companies, educational institutes, and government agencies around the world.

ANDY JORDAN (CISSP, CISM, MCSA, MCP, Security+, Network+, ITIL v3, LeanIT) is a Senior Security Architect at Mosaic451, a managed services provider that focuses on maintaining and protecting critical IT systems. Over his 12-year career, Andy has built and managed multiple cybersecurity teams. He specializes in helping organizations gain visibility for how technical risks related to the overarching business risks.

BRYAN DICKENS offers awesome and unique talents to Cybint as a retired FBI behavioral profiler. During his tenure with the Bureau, he was involved in effectively developing and delivering hundreds of behavioral and psychological profiles to apprehend some of the most prolific violent offenders of the last 20 years. His efforts helped result in more than 665 convictions at a 97% conviction rate.
